Fire Safety & Construction – Nate Elkins, Supervisor AHJ-Fire Life Safety Program, Licensing & Certification-Bureau of Facility Standards Nate Elkins has designed this class to train and equip administrators and maintenance personnel in fire prevention and life safety by taking the approach to regulation integration and preparedness. This class meets the educational needs of both those new administrators and maintenance personnel for health care occupancies and those currently employed in the field who are looking to advance their knowledge base. Topics include: Documentation, Building Construction, Fire Sprinkler and Fire Alarm Inspection & Testing, Storage Requirements, Medical Gases, and Emergency Preparedness. Nate will include a special presentation on understanding the physical science of fire.
12:15 pm – 1:00 pm	Lunch Break
:00 pm - 2:30 pm (1.5)	What is a MERV- and What Does it Mean for Your Patients and Your Bottom Line Melissa Liston, CEO, Filter Factory Outlet Store A MERV is a standard that rates the overall effectiveness of air filters. Higher value MERV rating allows for finer filtration, meaning fewer dust particles and other airborne contaminants can pass through the filter. However, higher ratings can also increase heating and cooling costs. Melissa will help you know how to find the right balance and can answer many other questions related to filters.
2:45 pm – 4:15 pm (1.5)	Preventing Pest in Assisted Living and Nursing Facilities Ashley Roden, Board Certified Entomologist, Sprague Pest Solutions Ashley Roden will describe the critical steps for preventing pests in facilities, with a focus on bed bugs. Topics covered will include identifying pests, tips on what you can safely do after you find pests, and components of a comprehensive treatment.
